

Managing Planetary Influences

By Becky Ma, MBA (CUHK), BBA (CUHK), BA (RMIT)

Director of Union Healthcare Ltd

Committee Member and Director of Produce Green Foundation

Practitioner and Certified Facilitator of Shell Essences

Becky Ma has been a comprehensive background in business specialized in marketing and international business. Leading a stressful life in the corporate world weakened her health and alienated her from her love for nature. Knowing more about damages the industrial world made to Nature, she quitted and took on a new path to devote her for learning and promoting green living, organic farming, holistic nutrition, natural and traditional medicine, yoga, meditation... and all the things that enrich our Life.

Becky has been a shell collector since childhood, a lover of wild flowers and forest and a devoted user of flower and shell essences. She conducts Shell Essences workshop regularly in Hong Kong and apply her knowledge in nutrition, kinesiology, palm reading, shell essences in helping people.

Currently, she is a small business owner, promoting and distributing of natural nutritional products and alternative remedies in Hong Kong, apart from shell essences. She contributes her spare time on voluntary work, and is a director of Produce Green Foundation, a non-profit making organic farm. You may reach her at uhc@uhc.com.hk.
